Books about Human Trafficking

Not a Choice, Not a Job: Exposing the Myths and Prostitution and the Global Sex Trade, by Janice G. Raymond, Potomac Books. The author is an academic and a co-founder of an anti-trafficking nongovernmental organization. Recommended for personal reflection as well as discussion in faith groups, book clubs, and parental gatherings.

The Road of Lost Innocence: The True Story of a Cambodian Heroine by Somaly Mam, Spiegel & Grau Trade Paperback. A portion of the proceeds of the book are donated to the Somaly Mam Foundation. Somaly Mam shares her story of being sold into sexual slavery at the age of 12, her escape, and subsequent leadership in the fight against human trafficking.

Global Woman: Nannies, Maids, and Sex Workers in the New Economy, edited by Barbara Enrenreich. Henry Hold and Company. Collection of 15 essays explore the global inequality of women and modern day slavery.

Refuse to Do Nothing: Finding Your Power to Abolish Modern-Day Slavery, by Shayne Moore and Kimberly McOwen Yim. IVP Books. The authors are ordinary housewives who are touched by the fact that human slavery exists today, here in the United States as well as across the globe. They show you that you have the power to become an abolitionist.

Not For Sale: The Return of the Global Slave Trade – and How We Can Fight It, by David Batstone. Harpor One. Blackstone profiles the new generation of abolitionists who are leading the movement. This groundbreaking global report is now updated with the latest findings, new stories, and statistics that highlight what is being done to end this appalling epidemic—and how you can join the movement.

The Berlin Turnpike: A True Story of Human Trafficking in America, by Raymond Bechard. Sons of Liberty Press. This is a compelling expose of the people who live with the realities of commercial sexual exploitation every day.
